

AUSTRIAN REINFORCEMENTS STOP THE ITALIAN ADVANCE

Founded in the thirteenth century, it is of modern appearance and is known for its imposing buildings. The city is protected by outlying forts, although its defenses are much inferior to those of Przemysl.

RUSSIANS ADMIT
ARMY EVACUATED
LEMBERG FORTRESS

PETROGRAD, June 22.—The Russians have begun evacuating Lemberg. The withdrawal of troops began Monday night and continued throughout yesterday. Less than 40,000 men were defending the western approaches against Austrian attacks, and it is possible that this force has retired eastward, leaving the Galician capital free to the enemy.

Official circles accepted the retirement before the enemy's artillery onslaught as necessary to the carrying out of the Grand Duke's strategic plan and made the point that the city itself was of little military value. An official statement issued to-day touched only lightly on the situation at Lemberg, but dwelt upon Russian victories on both flanks of the combined Austro-German armies.

In southeast Galicia, along the front from Stanislaw to north of Czernowit, the Russian left wing inflicted two severe defeats on the Austro-Germans, taking 4,500 prisoners and large quantities of ammunition, the official statement said.

"Below Nianiof (fifteen miles north-east of Stanislaw) our forces at daybreak on Monday defeated an enemy force that crossed the Dniester on June 15," the War Office says. "We stormed and captured a series of fortified positions at Snowidow, though the enemy offered desperate resistance. We took 2,500 prisoners and numerous machine guns. The enemy retreated in disorder across the Dniester, pursued by our Cossacks."

"The enemy is also retreating along the Zaleszczyki front. We crossed the right bank of the river at this point, capturing the villages of Balamouty, Rahawenay and Gromach and taking 1,000 prisoners, including the commander of the Forty-second Infantry Division. At this point also we took many machine guns."

"The artillery and rifle duels around Lemberg continue. Northward of the city, the River Tanet suddenly crossed the river at Osoukha on Sunday and annihilated a battalion of the enemy. Along the front several enemy attacks were repulsed Monday night. Our forces took 350 prisoners and three machine guns."

"In the Shvyl region we captured and destroyed an enemy ammunition train."

TWO ACCIDENTS HALT
TRAFFIC OVER BRIDGE

Auto Hits Boy and Then Motorcyclist Crashes Into Stalled Car.

An accident at the Long Island City end of the Queensboro Bridge brought about a jam of automobile and street traffic that lasted half an hour during the morning rush to-day. Because of the construction of the elevated railroad, which is to carry passengers from the bridge out into Queens, all traffic at the eastern end of the bridge is passed through a narrow lane accommodating only one automobile at a time.

Laurita V. La Cour, a civil engineer of No. 10 State Street, Flushing, driving his automobile toward Manhattan, struck and injured a twelve-year-old Floyd McCardie of No. 548 Freeman Avenue, Long Island City. This occurred right at the entrance of the restricted traffic lane. As Mr. La Cour stopped his car, Joseph H. Moore of Elmhurst, riding a motorcycle, crashed into it. The motorcycle was demolished and Moore badly hurt. Before the obstruction was removed, the jam of automobiles and street cars extended across the Plaza clear to Jackson Avenue.

ALLIES TAKE A STRONG
TURKISH POSITION IN DARDANELLES BATTLE.

CAIRO, June 23.—Thirteen hundred Turks were killed in an all-day fight for a Turkish position at the Dardanelles on June 19, an official bulletin stated to-day. The allied troops rushed the Turkish trenches and drove the enemy out, despite heavy bombardment from Turkish guns.

OUTER FORTS OF MALBORGETH
CAPTURED BY THE ITALIANS

That City Is Under Bombardment, but Invaders Are Checked at Caporetto.

MANY NIGHT ATTACKS.

Rome Claims Defeat of Troops From Galicia by the Alpine Forces.

GENEVA, via Paris, June 23.—A Tribune despatch from Laibach says: "The Italians have gained possession of all the positions defending Malborgeth after a desperate struggle against the Austrians, particularly Honved detachments, which displayed great tenacity. The Italians now are violently bombarding the city."

"Arrival of Austrian reinforcements stopped the Italian advance at Caporetto, but they have not yet been back across the Isonzo."

"Thirty thousand Austrians who debouched from the Ternoza forest are marching against positions north of Gorizia."

"Southeast of Flitsch strong Austrian forces sought to drive back the Italians, who gave way before superior numbers and retired as far as the frontier, where they concealed themselves in a forest and allowed the Austrians to pass. When the Austrians were installed in Italian positions the Italians opened a murderous machine gun fire, killing over 400 of their adversaries and forcing the rest out of their positions."

"HOME (via Paris), June 23.—The following statement has been issued at the headquarters of the Italian general staff: "Enemy activity yesterday was concentrated along range artillery fire at several points on the front."

"In the Monte Nero zone one of our Alpine battalions encountered yesterday for the first time important enemy forces recently arrived, probably from Galicia. The Alpine troops attacked and repulsed them, inflicting heavy losses and taking some prisoners."

"Night attacks by infantry were renewed against our positions at Plava with the most intense rifle fire and the use of hand grenades. All these attacks were repulsed."

"On the lower Isonzo we further strengthened our occupation. Floods caused the enemy in the same adjacent to the Montebello, although assembly decreasing, still constitute a formidable obstacle."

"An enemy aeroplane dropped several bombs without doing any damage."

ONE-MINUTE KISS HIT ROBERTSON AS HE SAT IN WINDOW

Mrs. Tempest sat in the rear seat of the limousine, but did not address each other affectionately. The witness was somewhat angered when Attorney Steuer inquired if he went to dancing palaces with Mrs. Robertson.

"Why, the idea," said Phillips. "Certainly I go to dancing places like any other New Yorker, but never with Mrs. Robertson."

The suit incident was referred to again by Edward P. Farley, a former policeman, now a private detective. Though Farley did not pay as much attention to the affectionate scenes framed in the window, he heard some loud snarls and said that for more than thirty minutes they sat kissing and hugging each other.

Farley was certain that each kiss given by Mrs. Tempest lasted fully a minute, and he sometimes said: "Mary Edwards, colored maid to Mrs. Tempest, proved a star witness for Mrs. Robertson. Two weeks before Christmas, 1914, she went into Mrs. Tempest's employ. Right afterward she saw Mr. Robertson in Mrs. Tempest's apartment. Often he stayed to dinner with Mrs. Tempest. His visits continued until the maid left Mrs. Tempest's employ in March, this year."

Mary was positive that Robertson remained all night on many occasions, because she had washed his silk shirts and pajamas.

Q. Ever see Mr. Robertson in bed? A. Yes, why, I often served both Mr. Robertson and Mrs. Tempest with breakfast in bed. He usually stayed all night, took a shower bath in the morning and then he lay in bed in the bathroom. He kept his silk shirt and full dress suit in the apartment and a few other things."

ITALIAN FLEET SAILED
FOR THE DARDANELLES, SAYS A BERLIN REPORT.

COPENHAGEN, June 23.—Several Italian cruisers have left their base at Taranto for Tenedos Island, to join the Allies attacking the Dardanelles, according to a Berlin despatch to-day.

A despatch from Rome several days ago reported that part of the Italian fleet had sailed from Taranto under sealed orders.

RIVAL CULTS CLASH
IN A $250,000 SUIT
FOR A MAN'S LOVE

Mazzdaznanist Wants to Know Just How Christian Scientist Won Her Husband.

If Mrs. Brownie Rathbone Weaver expects to collect part or all of the $250,000 damages for which she has sued Mrs. Caroline W. Frame, prominent Christian Scientist, for the alleged theft of Frederick Weaver, son's husband's affections, a hard task is before her.

In Justice Gott's part of the Supreme Court to-day, Mrs. Frame, who could pay four times the amount she is being sued for and then have a big balance left, asked for a court order compelling Mrs. Weaver to give in minute detail all particulars as to just how she won Mr. Weaver's affections.

Here are some of the particulars she wants:

What religious instruction or suggestion did the defendant give Weaver to lead him, as his wife alleges, to leave his home and spend his time with the wealthy widow? Mrs. Frame is a Christian Scientist. Mrs. Weaver is a Mazzdaznanist.

The latter belief leans away from Science and is taught in this country by a Hindoo philosopher with headquarters in Chicago. Mrs. Weaver is asked to tell what there was lacking in her belief that her husband found in Christian Science.

TREATED HIM NICELY, BUT THAT'S ALL.

What wiles, arts and flattery did Mrs. Frame use in accomplishing the alleged "theft" Mrs. Frame told the court that she was not aware of any wiles, arts or flattery she might possess, and as to using them on Weaver, why, the very ideal Mrs. Frame always treated him nicely because he had befriended her and had saved a large part of her big fortune when scheming acquaintances tried to ret away with it.

What costly gifts did Mrs. Frame bestow upon Weaver that made him, as Mrs. Weaver alleges, look up to the widow as a better woman than his wife? Mrs. Frame wants a list of all the presents and information as to just how the giving of them affected Weaver.

When and where did Mrs. Frame tell friends that Mrs. Weaver was not a fit companion or wife? Mrs. Weaver says that it was what Mrs. Frame said to outsiders about her that led Weaver to leave his home at that time on the floor below Mrs. Frame's apartment at No. 440 Riverside Drive—and take up his abode in the Corcoran domicile.

What promises did Mrs. Frame make to Weaver that turned his head, as Mrs. Weaver alleges. The rich Christian Scientist and wants to know where and when the promises were made, since Mrs. Weaver alleges that she (the defendant) told Weaver her influence in the Christian Science would result in his elevation to an important office in the church if he would accept her belief.

Although the suit was filed more than a year ago, it lay in the archives of the County Clerk's office until yesterday and was not brought to court until last night.

When Mrs. Frame's attorneys, a short time ago, asked Mrs. Weaver to intend to charge her husband with marital wrongdoing, she replied that she intended to press such charges at the trial of the action.

"A PIECE OF CHEESE." Alderman Dowling's Definition of an Efficiency Engineer.

Alderman Frank Dowling, who is an old fashioned Tammany Hall man, believes that New York City got along quite as well as it not better before it began to place $5,000 a year efficiency engineers on its payroll.

"What's an efficiency engineer, anyway?" asked one of Dowling's friends in the City Hall to-day.

"Well," pondered Dowling, "it's this way: When I was only a kid I knew that efficiency meant, I could also do the word engineer. But this efficiency engineer business is difficult to explain. An efficiency engineer is just like a Welsh rabbit, which is neither a cat nor a rabbit. It is just a plain piece of cheese."

TWO NEUTRAL SHIPS, ONE AN AMERICAN, ARE RELEASED BY BRITISH.

LONDON, Monday, June 20.—(Delayed by Censor).—The Government has ordered the discharge of the American steamer Seaconnet, from New York for Gothenburg, which has been detained at Kirkwall for several days.

Investigation established the fact that the Seaconnet's cargo was not intended for the use of enemies of Great Britain. Similar action was taken in the case of the Norwegian steamer Nordkyn, with a cargo of grain.

The Norwegian steamer Bergensfjord from New York for Norway, with a general cargo, and the Swedish steamer Varin, from Savannah for Sweden, both with a general cargo, have been detained at Kirkwall.

STORY ATTRIBUTED TO POPE BENEDICT
CRITICISED IN ITALY

Some of the Italian Papers Call Upon the Pontiff to Deny Alleged Interview.

ROME, (via Paris), June 23.—The Italian press vigorously condemns the interview attributed to Pope Benedict by Louis Latapie and published in La Liberté of Paris in which His Holiness is said to have voiced a complaint that the privileges of the Vatican have been seriously curtailed by the Italian Government as the result of the war.

The Corriere d'Italia declares that if the Pontiff does not categorically deny the words attributed to him they will have deplorable consequences.

Secolo says: "The Pope has spoken strange words."

HAVRE (via Paris, June 23).—Doubt is expressed by the Vingtieme Siecle, a Catholic Unionist newspaper, of the authenticity of the interview reported to have been given by the Pope to Louis R. Latapie. In this interview the Pontiff is said to have asserted that Cardinal Mercier, Archbishop of Malines, never had been arrested. The Vingtieme Siecle takes particular exception to this statement.

The newspaper argues that Cardinal Mercier's coercion was proved by the Archbishop's own Latin pastoral address to the clergy on Jan. 10, in which the prelate formally contradicted the statement of Gen. Von Bissing, German Governor of Belgium, that the Cardinal never had been prevented from exercising fully his ecclesiastical functions.

FRENCH SWEEP ON IN ALSACE;
TAKE TOWN OF SONDERNACH

Paris War Office Says Germans Fired 4,000 Shells at Villages in Vosges.

MADE A SLIGHT GAIN.

Attacks at Neuville and Toward "the Labyrinth" Reported Repulsed.

PARIS, June 23.—Continuing their advance into Alsace, French troops have occupied Sondernach on the east bank of the river Fecht, two miles southeast of Metzeral.

The text of the official report is as follows:

"In the region to the north of Arras bombardments have been continued on both sides, lasting throughout the entire night. The Germans endeavored to deliver counter-attacks, one near the Neuville cemetery and the other in the direction of 'the Labyrinth.' Each was completely repulsed."

"To the west of the Argonne, not far from the road running from Binarville to Vienne-le-Chateau, the fighting is going on in the German trenches, hand-grenades being used. On the remainder of the front, in the Argonne, the Germans have expended a vast amount of ammunition, but without delivering any infantry attack."

"On the heights of the Meuse, at Calonne, we, yesterday evening, reconquered a further section of the second German line."

"In Lorraine yesterday saw fresh counter attacks against the positions which we have taken near Leintrey. They were repulsed and we retained all our gains, at the same time making some prisoners."

"In the Vosges, at Fontenelle, in the region of Ban-de-Sapt, the enemy yesterday evening, after having thrown nearly 4,000 shells in a few hours against one of our works, advanced against a front of 200 yards, and succeeded in gaining a footing. At the same time an attack upon neighboring trenches was delivered. This German offensive was immediately checked by a French counter attack led with great brilliancy. We captured almost all the lost ground. The enemy was successful in maintaining his position only at the extremity of our work. We took 142 prisoners, including three officers."

"In the region of the Fecht River we have occupied Sondernach, and we have pushed our line along the slopes to the east of this village."

EXPECT JURY WILL

OF MRS. PELL TO-DAY

Attorneys Argue Damage Case Against Long Island Railroad This Morning.

A decision is expected to-day in the Queens County Supreme Court in the suit of Mrs. Elizabeth Warden Pell against the Long Island Railroad Company for $250,000 for the death of her husband, S. Osgood Pell, who was killed when a train struck his automobile at the Wreck Lead crossing, Long Beach, the night of Aug. 3, 1913.

Martin W. Littleton began the day's proceedings by summing up for the railroad company. He asked the jury to consult the plaintiff because she had failed to prove any negligence on the part of the railroad management. Pell, he declared, recklessly drove his car at top speed for the crossing, in the face of an approaching train which was within sight of the other motorists in the vicinity.

Former Justice Augustus Van Wyck, in summing up for Mrs. Pell, declared that the Wreck Lead crossing is a menace to all who have to go over it and that Pell and his party happened to be the victims.

BRITISH MUNITION
BILL A WHIP FOR LABOR AND CAPITAL

Bars Strikes and Lockouts and Has Drastic Provision for "Slackers."

LONDON, June 23.—Minister of Munitions Lloyd George introduced in the House of Commons to-day the Munitions Bill, a measure which will revolutionize the conditions under which ammunition and other war material is to be prepared in this country.

The bill makes strikes and lockouts illegal, provides for compulsory arbitration, gives the power to fine "slackers," limits the profits of employers, and creates a volunteer army of workmen pledged to go wherever they are wanted.

Mr. Lloyd George admitted that the shortage of munitions was serious, in view of the standard set up by this war. The fact, he continued, was doubtless as well known to Germany as it was in England.

"Because of the duration of the war, the toll of life and the amount of exhaustion created, ultimate victory or defeat depends upon the supply of munitions," the Minister declared. "That is cardinal. Where the allies are making progress on any part of the line it is due to their superiority in munitions. The allies have superiority in men, both in numbers and in quality. I have been told that the central European powers are turning out 250,000 shells a day. We can not merely equal, but if we are in earnest we can surpass that output."

"If we can within the next few months produce as much ammunition as can the French establishment, the allies will have an overwhelming superiority in the first great essential of victory."

MIDDIES HAD QUESTIONS
BEFORE EXAMINATIONS

Two Tell How Nelson, Honor Man, Read Over to Them Answers in Advance.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 23.—What proved to be advance information on practically all of the questions in the last annual examinations in French and Spanish at the Naval Academy was given to several members of the fourth or lowest class by Midshipman R. M. Nelson, an honor man of the graduating class, according to testimony to-day before the Court of Inquiry investigating the "cribbing" scandal at the academy.

The testimony of Midshipman W. C. Wade and C. Withers of the former third class was practically the same. It was to the effect that Nelson read to them and to others who were present solutions to questions which later appeared respectively in the Spanish and French examinations.

The midshipmen made notes, it was testified, on the strength of Nelson's statement, that though he did not know what he had was the actual examination they "might get this on examination."

NORWAY HOPES GERMANS, SEEING MISTAKES, WILL AVOID NEUTRAL SHIPS.

LONDON, June 23.—The hope that Germany will take steps to safeguard neutral shipping from submarine attacks was expressed by the Norwegian Foreign Minister, M. Hilen, at the opening of the Storthing, says a Reuter despatch from Christiania.

Discussing the torpedoing of the Norwegian steamships, Belridge and Svein Jarl, M. Hilen declared: "Whatever differences of opinion may exist regarding rights under international law, it is my hope that the German Government, having learned through experience how easily mistakes are made, will give Commanders of German warships such instructions as will make neutral shipping safe."

MYSTERY SHROUDS SUICIDE.

Friends Believe Overwork Caused Mental Collapse of F. C. Holmes.

The body of Frederick C. Holmes, who was found last night in the East River off Fifty-third Street, was removed to-day to his late residence, No. 8510 Ridge Boulevard, Brooklyn, where he left a wife and two children.

His death is shrouded in mystery. The impression of his friends is that he jumped into the river while suffering from mental aberration, due to incessant work. For twenty-five years he was cashier for the J. K. Krig Company at No. 39 Warren Street. In all that time he did not take more than a day's holiday at a time. His books and accounts are correct and his family is well provided for.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

Lemberg, capital of Galicia, has fallen before the Austro-German armies which have been sweeping across the province for the last two months. An official announcement from the Austrian headquarters says the city was captured by the second army after a severe battle.

South of Lemberg, in the Dniester region, a strip of Austrian territory is still in the hands of the Russians. An official statement from Petrograd reports an important victory after a battle along the river which lasted several days. At Rawa Ruska, thirty-two miles northwest of Lemberg and near the Bukovina border, other Russian successes are claimed.

The Italian General Staff announces the arrival of important reinforcements for the Austrians along the Isonzo front, north of the Gulf of Trieste.

An unofficial despatch from Geneva says the Italians have captured all the positions defending Malborgeth and are bombarding the fortress itself.

Five Swedish steamers, bound for England with lumber, were captured yesterday by German warships in the Baltic Sea.

BRITISH REPORTS
ON THE CAMERONIA
ANGER THE GERMANS

Her Effort to Ram a Submarine Declared to Justify Sinking of Lusitania.

BERLIN (via The Hague), June 23.—British press reports that the Anchor liner Cameronia attempted several times to ram a German submarine were received here to-day as additional justification for the German claim that British merchantmen cannot be dealt with humanely.

The fact that a number of Americans were aboard the Cameronia made the report bear more directly upon the Lusitania situation. If the British reports are true, the U-boat attempted to hail the Cameronia, but only escaped destruction by diving beneath the liner.

WOULD EJECT SPEYER
AND CASSEL FROM THE BRITISH PRIVY COUNCIL.

LONDON, June 23.—Baron Reading, the Lord Chief Justice, to-day granted an order in the Court of the King's Bench directing Sir Edgar Speyer and Sir Ernest Cassel to show by what authority they claim to be members of the Privy Council in Great Britain.

Application for the order was made at the instance of Sir George McGill on the ground that neither Sir Edgar Speyer nor Sir Ernest Cassel is a British subject, born or bred, and, therefore, is not lawfully a member of the Privy Council.

The German origin of both these financiers has been the subject of much comment in connection with the internment of aliens in the United Kingdom.

TAX ON OLD MAIDS
AND BACHELORS LEVIED
IN GERMAN VILLAGES.

AMSTERDAM, June 23.—A bachelor and spinster tax, graduated according to age, has been imposed in a number of Austrian and German villages to meet deficits caused by the war. Young bachelors and spinsters under thirty are lightly taxed, but in some instances those over forty years of age are forced to pay $250.

AUTOS AND AEROS ON SHIP.

Liner Carrying Munitions to Allies, Halted For More.

The sailing of the White Star liner Arabic was delayed three hours to-day by the late arrival of sixty automobile trucks and thirty aeroplanes for shipment to the Allies.

Over 12,000 tons of freight, much of it ammunition and war supplies, was put aboard the ship before the sailing hour. Where the auto and aeroplane came from was not stated, but their shipment on the Arabic came as a last minute order.

Of the 113 cabin passengers, only ten were Americans. One hundred passengers were in the steerage.
